

Cracow University of Economics at the MASTER AND MORE fair in Munich on 18th November 2014

The Cracow University of Economics will present its postgraduate programmes taught in English at the first MASTER AND MORE fair in Munich on the 18th November. At the Masters Study Fair, the university admissions counsellors will offer individual consultations to prospective Masters and PhD students.

At the Masters Study Fair students and graduates can meet representatives from the Cracow University of Economics informing about the postgraduate degrees. The university will be present at the fair booth from 09:00 am to 4:00 pm. Fair visitors have the chance to get individual consultation and ask questions about application, admission and student life.

The accompanying conference programme includes a range of career professionals and university representatives to answer important questions about Masters studies and first career options. An innovative way of planning time at the fair is to use the new personalized fair guide which gives visitors the chance to maximize the benefits of their visit.
